AN ECONOMIC ADVISER OF President Macapagal-Arroyo yesterday warned her of a simmering public fury over rising oil prices, which he feared is the dawn of the dictator Ferdinand Marcos.

Alloy Rey, key adviser said that "silent rage" could only be relieved by the suspension of the 10 percent expanded value-added tax (VAT) on energy products, which the Arroyo's economic managers had rejected as unacceptable after the proposed measure sparked financial markets, foreign investors and international credit rating agencies.

The Cabinet yesterday decided to lower oil import tariffs to cushion the impact of record-high world crude prices and keep the government finances on track.

"What we have looked at and decided is the tariff adjustment. As prices of crude increase, we can allow for an adjustment. That's a reduction in the tariff duty on crude," Finance Secretary Margarita Teso told reporters.

"It's a sliding scale formula. In other words, if the price of crude oil is at a certain level, we can adjust that by 1 percentage point. If it will go up to another level, we can add just 1 to 2 percentage points."

The Philippines, which imports nearly all its daily oil requirement.

By Yeln Contreras

VIOLATED PROMISES. OUTRAGED by President Joseph Estrada yesterday for not letting him know that he had been indicted for graft, the 59-year-old Estrada appeared for the fifth time today in court for the 1999-2001 period, a crime penalized by death through lethal injection but unlikely to be carried out amid the current debate about the death penalty.

Prosecutors allege Estrada amassed about 74 billion from illegal gambling payoffs, his kickbacks and commissions steamed in scores bank accounts under aliases. He also faced a perjury charge for allegedly underreporting his assets in 1999.

Toward the midday break, Estrada's defense counsel, Jose Placencia, moved to wrap up the hearing session by asking the court about his "feelings" concerning the charges leveled against him, particularly by Singson.

"My feeling is that not even in my wildest dreams did I expect to be placed in this stand—thus President to prisoner. It's so painful to be here because of lies started by one man," he said, referring to Singson.

SC ruling put to a test in May Day rallies

By Blanche S. Rivera

MAF I WILL SHOW WHO'S WHO. Labor groups said Malacañang's request for the Supreme Court's decision declaring the redrafted preventive suspension (CPS) policy unconstitutional would be tested on May Day when workers take to the streets to demand a better living package.

Union said the protest action on Monday would be the latest test for President Macapagal-Arroyo and the Philippine National Police.

"It is the Supreme Court decision on CPS that will be followed, as would be by Malacañang, the PNP and the Office of Mayor (Lito) Alameda, who will have the final word," he said.

The Solidarity of Union and Labor Organizations for New Government (Solunog) is hoping to bring 20,000 workers out to the streets while the Supreme Court is hearing the case.

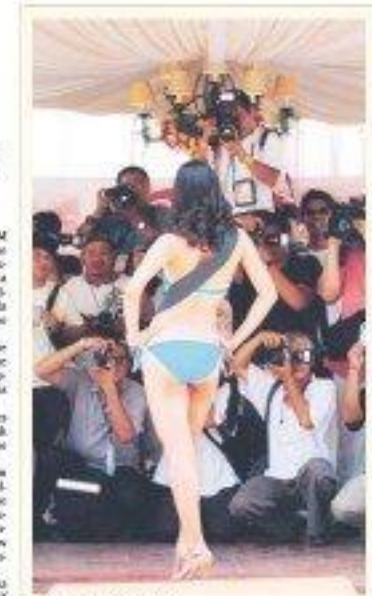

The protesters will not join a 5,000-strong Task Force Manila Shield, Metro Manila Police Chief Noli Cortes said yesterday. He said he will be on full alert.

RESOLUTION EXPRESSING THE SENSE OF THE SENATE THAT THE SIGNATURE CAMPAIGN TO INTRODUCE CHANGES TO THE CONSTITUTION THROUGH BARANGAY ASSEMBLIES INITIATED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT IS ILLEGAL

WHEREAS, on March 10, 2006, the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG) issued Memorandum Circular No. 2006-25 enjoining all Barangay Assemblies to conduct Barangay Assemblies on March 25, 2006 to tackle issues on health, agriculture, education, and "current issues affecting the country";

WHEREAS, newspaper reports disclose that the Barangay Assemblies which commenced on March 25, 2006 were used as venues for a signature campaign to amend the Constitution through a people's initiative;

WHEREAS, Article XVII, Section 2 of the Constitution provides that amendments to the Constitution may be "directly proposed by the people through initiative upon a petition of at least twelve per centum of the total number of registered voters, of which every legislative district must be represented by at least three per centum of the registered voters therein" and that the Congress shall provide for the implementation of the exercise of the right of initiative;

WHEREAS, under the Constitution, the exercise of the right of initiative granted to the people is limited to the right to propose amendments and not revision of the Constitution;

WHEREAS, the proposed change in the form of government from bicameral-presidential to unicameral-parliamentary, entails a revision of the Constitution which cannot be done through a people's initiative;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Senate to express its sense that the signature campaign to introduce changes to the Constitution through barangay assemblies initiated by the Department of Interior and Local Government is illegal.

OUR HAPPY ANGEL IS GONE NOW! ARNEL ARGONES was speaking about his 5-year-old daughter Rika, the youngest of the seven fatalities in Monday's accident along the zigzag diversion road in Baguio, Quezon.

Argones said his child was traveling on Monday down with his uncle, Vito, in an RJ Transit bus bound for Manila. Both died when the bus plunged into a 30-meter ravine.

"Monday is our deepest night," Vito said. "I was not the driver of the bus, Argones said.

the wife of Vito, in Baguio, Quezon, said that he did not know the driver of the bus.

Rika, 5, was the youngest of the seven fatalities. The seven passengers who died in the accident, police said.

Bus driver

In fact, the victims' families suggested that the company was "looking up" something to establish the accident.

A man, who identified himself as the company's representative, RJ Transit, revealed that the bus driver, Felipe Pangelan, a 30-year-old married man, was the driver of the bus.

That was the operator's manager of RJ Transit, according to his companion.

The victims' families were surprised when they learned that the driver was in Manila.

"Why then? I have come that to the police report that we have, the driver is still unidentified? It seems that the company is hiding something from the police," said the victims' families.

Rika and her older sister had been traveling with their mother in Baguio, Quezon.

"We decided to transfer them to Manila when school year was over to be together. We already made a reservation, but it was one of the schools that was not in Baguio, but now, who am I going to transfer?" Argones said, looking back.

"Look at what they do to my girl? The accident happened in Baguio, but he said."

Jose's father said his child daughter was going to Manila for work.

"When the bus, she was full of people for us. She was very happy to go to Manila and to see her father who was in Manila, but now, who am I going to transfer?" Argones said, looking back.

WHY THE TIDE HAS TURNED

In every village, town and province, the Filipino people have raised a collective voice that rings across the land with an unmistakable demand: It is time to amend the Constitution, it is time to change the structure of government and shift to a parliamentary system and a one-house Parliament. It is time to put an end to gridlock, fighting between senators and congressmen and between the Senate and House of Representatives, which only a unicameral parliamentary system could cure. It is time to do away with coup attempts and destabilization, and dirty, destructive and poisonous politics.

Support for the People's Initiative to amend the Charter has jumped from 20 percent six months ago to 43 percent in recent weeks. Ang Sigaw ng Bayan continues to gather the signatures of millions more of Filipinos who seek constitutional reform as the last hope of the nation.

Influential business organizations, major labor and civil society groups, and all the leagues of local officials nationwide have joined in this chorus for change!
